A strong woman defines strength not just physically but as well mentally, emotionally and strong willed personality. It will never be easy due to life challenges and responsibilities. I, a physical educator, health and a music major ,professional dancer, a personal trainer and a group fitness instructor still wanna achieve more and still have some certain goals in life.

In career, family and personal growth. An achiever will always want more I guess. I do believe, learning is a no ending process and we learn also through challenges and trials. Every stepped I took, from getting my bachelors degree, becoming a TV dancer, and till I switched career into fitness, everything was a struggle. It was not easy! I did lots of sacrifices. People tried to pull me down, who thought I wont make it, doubted me and laughed behind my back. That feeling when I look at my parents, and saw their sacrifices. That moment i promised i'll do my best to give them a better life for giving us the best and to prove others what Im capable of! Negative or positive, these people inspired me to be better on what I do. I need to keep pushing and always get out of my comfort zone.

With my career right now, I handling a very delicate and sensitive part of my clients life. A new milestone that they are trying to achieve and their sharing and trusting it to me. My aspirations right now is to get better and more knowledge on what I do. To help more and be an inspiration to others and most of all to give pride to my parents.

One thing I know, its only YOU who can do it! It will amaze you how capable YOU are as an individual and YOU can definitely say "I am a strong woman"

My name is Jessica Stoner, I'm 24 years old and live in my hometown called Payson, Az. I'm a mommy to a beautiful baby boy and wanna be able to give him the best future. I am a very outgoing bubbly human, I'm caring, sweet, and funny but I try not to give myself too much credit. I always put others before myself and will continue to do so well till I die.

> I would have to say my goals and achievements would be to just grow as a person and learn new experiences, open new doors for me and my son in the future. I want to keep striving and working hard for the things I get and or will receive. For challenges and successes I would have to say being a single mom is rough, my challenge everyday is to get up and provide for my sons needs and mine. It's also so successful in the end because at the end of the day, week, and year I know I worked so hard for that kid to look up to me as a hero or influencer in his life. I wanna make a change for me and my son for the better. I was discovered by Michael Kostopou-los on Facebook and he gave me the most amazing opportunity I couldn't have asked for. I'm now a model for his company Babygirlfashions where I will have my own line of swim wear and lingerie and maybe even more if I'm lucky :). I think Michael could be the one to help me open new doors and give me experiences I never thought I would have. He's been more than amazing and I could never repay him for all his hard work and dedication he's put into me. For that I will always look up to Michael.

I am a professional published model of Memphis TN. I have loved modeling since age 13 years old. I begin my Modeling career as a model of Memphis TN in the year of 2015, and was later assigned to a agency called Work Of Art Agency of Memphis TN for my talent. I have also done many fashion shows in the local areas of Memphis and even parts of Mississippi, as well as out of town shows. I have traveled to many cities such as ATL, New York, Kansas City, New Orleans as well as Chicago. Modeling isn't something I can just give up on it's my passion, not only I love what I do I live it everyday of my life. My idols always have been Tyra Banks & Naomi Campbell. Seeing them on the runway always motivated me to give it my best no matter what. In 2019 and in 2020 I was nominated for The SCM Awards for Model OTY by Jay Shield of Memphis TN. I was also nominated for Hood Idol Magazine Model OTY in Moss Point Ms. And received a trophy for my hard work. Modeling is everything to me! As a model of Memphis TN, I strive for the best I can be not only as a model, but as a mother of five beautiful children, a wife, and as a grandmother of two. In the fashion industry I have done TV, commercial, videos Lingerie, nude, and body Art, I was even published in many Magazines, such as Xposure, Erotica, Dime, XOXO, Through The Lens, Slay Queenz, Hood Idol, and Fascic Magazine for my talent as a model, and also on Roku for Battle Of The Strut which is produced by Kimberly Young of Kansas City, and been interviewed on the radio of 92.7fm on The Chris Grindhard Show. As a 5'2 inch model I continue to push towards success. I love how God created me. He created me to be able to stay focused, and motivated, as well as having confidence in myself. I love being me, different how God created me to be. I am your favorite Memphis Model, The Memphis Slayer

What is your beauty secret? I drink a lot of water, and also coconut water. It nourishes and hydrates my skin from within.

If you could go back to the past, is there anything you would change? There are definitely things I would have done differently if I knew what I know now, but I guess I had to go through those experiences to gain that wisdom. I feel that the hard times always bring opportunities for growth and that's ultimately what it's all about.

What is your mantra? "Just be". It basically means that we don't have to worry about the past or the future, and instead just focus on being in the present.

What do you value most and why? I value time the most, absolutely! It's the very fabric of what life is made of. I try to be as selective as possible with how I spend my time. Focusing on doing what I love and loving what I do are what I try to keep at the forefront of my mind. The biggest and best gift anyone can give is their time.

What is your passion? I have a big heart and have always liked helping others. I get passionate about kindness! It's how I live my life. My heart is filled with kindness and it's all I have to give. There can never be too much kindness in this world.
