My journey started about 3 years ago. I got a job at a local gym with zero knowledge of anything fitness or health! I slowly started learning about it but still wasn't very interested in it until a year after, I had just got out of a relationship and was in a very depressed state, was barely eating, barely doing anything and one day I weighed myself and my weight came up to around 92-95lbs which was the lowest I've ever been! That's when I knew it was time for a change! I began to follow fitness competitors on social media, visited my local supplement store and started learning and doing research and learning the equipments etc. Throughout all of this I became friends on social media with a few trainers and would ask about their workouts or what was the purpose of them and how I could do them and implement them into my life ... I began to eat lots! Steak and eggs and rice for breakfast! Mass gainers in between meals ...all that good stuff!

It was hard to eat so much at times as my body couldn't ingest it so I'd have to almost force myself to eat as I knew it was what my body needed in order to gain healthy weight... started working out about 5 days a week. Was blessed by having a couple friends who were trainers and would give me some programs to try out and learn about. As time went on I became more confident on myself, I'm how my body look but more specific how my naked body looked as that was always a struggle and felt self-conscious about my naked body, which is why I wouldn't even wear a bikini... but that all changed! I grew! I gained weight and confidence... enough confidence to find a coach to train me to compete as a bikini athlete . I trained during the pandemic and placed 3rd on my very first show on both my categories that I had signed up for. It was the only show that happened in Bc I believe .. I might be wrong but it was an amazing experience and I'm still hooked! Still learning, embracing all the ups and downs that come with this lifestyle. Learning about health and fitness and the human body has been amazing. At this point I plan to get to an IFBBPRO level and currently working towards a nutrition coach certification and after that the goal is to become a trainer ! But there's no limit to my dreams and hopes for my future <3

I don't believe in bucket lists. From a very young age I have realized how short life can be so I literally live every day like it's my last... because it very well could be. My dream has always been to live in Florida, with my family and wake up smiling every day. I moved to the Gulf Coast last year and haven't regretted one minute of it. I am surrounded by family, friends and an extremely rewarding life. I am spending my life with my partner, Chad who is also my best friend. Together we have 5 amazing kids and a passion for doing the next right thing. I graduated from high school at the age of 16, went on to earn 3 college degrees, become a published model, author and also have my minister's license (primarily so I can perform weddings for my friends ). I have worked in sales/sales management for the last 15 years and am in an industry that is full of the best people on the planet. If I were to change anything about this life, it would be to have the ability of living some moments twice.

Hello, I'm Kell Ale Tha Model (Kellz), I'm originally from Boston, Massachusetts. I am based out of Raleigh, NC/ Pinehurst, North Carolina and Jackson, TN. I resided in Orlando, FL up until October before relocating to Los Angeles California. I'm a model/actress that has been working in this profession for approximately 10 years. As a travel model I love all styles of modeling from Runway to Print modeling. When it comes to being photographed or being on set, I'm a model that listen and take direction very well. I also thinks outside the box and love to show my creativity and artistic side. I'm open to bikini, boudoir, lingerie, hip-hop, fashion, glam, editorial, and a host of other photography. As a model my work doesn't just include photo shoots, I have been involved in other projects such as music videos, radio, movies, and sheer appearances. When I'm not modeling I enjoy photography which I have being doing photography professionally for over 4 years now. I also enjoy working with music; creating beats, writing lyrics, and developing songs. Please feel free to contact me email me at:

Hey, I'm Laura Jo! I'm a dog momma, dancer, and Integrative Health & Nutrition Coach. I'm also a little bit of a bookworm, have a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology, and am now working on my second Bachelor's Degree and becoming a registered dietician and Board Certified Health & Wellness Coach. Getting in front of a camera years ago has played quite the significant role in my self-love/self-discovery journey. It was actually one of the scariest and most important steps I took in my journey towards healing from some pretty crazy life events that happened and has helped me become more fearless and empowered in myself as a woman, with a deeper sense of love for myself, greater confidence, and happiness overall. My dream is to one day be a stay-at-home mom who runs my own coaching business and helps other women find greater self-love, happiness, and a healthier relationship with their bodies as well.

Cześć nazywam Paulina spełniłam swoje największe marzenie czyli zostać modelką i aktorką. Jestem już aż 2 lata i narazie nic nie wskazuje żebym zrezygnowała. Na instagramie pojawiłam się około rok temu jako modelka i aktorka. W sesji zdjęciowym i jak w nagraniach teledysków i seriali/filmów pojawiłam się nie co później. Pewnie teraz zadacie coby pytanie czyli kiedy? Już wam mówię jakoś 8 miesięcy temu. To była najlepsza decyzją w moim życiu dużo przygód i jak nabieranie doświadczeń w modelingu i jak w aktorstwie. Ale sesji plenerowej pojawiłam się nie co wcześniej... czyli jak zaczęłam swoją pierwszą sesję zdjęciową plenerową. Mam nadzieję że przeczytaliście to i nie boicie się spełniać swoich marzeń

When I was a little girl, always dreamed with beautiful women from the 50s and the glamour of the Golden Era of Hollywood. I wanted to look like them (of course), but I wasn't. When I turned 17, I enrolled in a modeling school to follow my dreams into become a model. In those days being only 5'6" high and a colored young girl wasn't enough. My opportunities was zero in an industry where the 5"11", extremely skinny white blonde women predominated. That was my biggest challenge, try to break through in a time when wasn't much opportunities for a girl like me; and turned every rejection into a positive thing.

After hundreds of rejected castings and never calls back, I changed my interests to achieve my goals through ballroom dancing; so I became a dancer. I started taking dance classes and training for international competition winning couples awards in the Latin category. After that, I started getting notice in the industry in my beautiful island of Puerto Rico. Small part as an extra in dance commercial and a music video, and some opportunities as a model in the local TV. No much bus was a beginning. Dancing opened the doors for me to modeling in fashion shows and tours travel around the Caribbean, USA, Mexico, Peru, and Chile was the beginning.

I had achieved the opportunity to travel and performed national and international as a dancer, model, and spoke person. Being a published models in multiple magazine with four front cover under my modeling career. And the satisfaction where exterior type is longer an obstacle to reach your dreams.

I am a part time fitness model, with my lovely husband, with a passion for eating pizza and bodybuilding. My goal in the fitness industry is to network with other professionals, gain more knowledge, create, and inspire others to pursue their dreams. This year, I will be competing for my first time in NPC bodybuilding in the Wellness category. It would be a dream to become an IFBB Pro in Wellness, but just to compete would be awesome! My other goal is to become sponsored as an athlete, model, and fitness personality. Follow your dreams, but allow the universe to lead you to where you need to be. Trust the process!
